

Trailblazers Camp

Develop your leadership potential through outdoor adventure.

Learn to be a voice for social justice.

Are you ready for a week-long adventure that will prepare you to be a positive leader in any situation?

Have you seen or experienced discrimination and not been sure how to respond?

Delve deeply into the issues of exclusion in a series of workshops where campers are the experts and power is shared between youth and Pathfinder facilitators.

Mix in high-adventure outdoor activities and you'll have the chance to set and achieve personal goals and develop the skills to effectively work toward inclusion in any situation.

You'll return more prepared to implement change in your school and community and can look forward to leadership opportunities at college and your future career.

July 5-9, 2010 at DaySpring Camp in Bradenton entering 10th to entering 12th grade overnight camp-$575

727-328-0300 · INFO@PATHFINDER-ED.ORG · WWW.PATHFINDER-ED.ORG

Trailblazers Camp

Develop your leadership potential through outdoor adventure.

Learn to be a voice for social justice.

"Camp was so important and meaningful to me that I truly have no idea how to put it into words. It has helped me grow into a more thoughtful, compassionate, selfless, and intentional person."

"Camp provided me with the skills and courage to effectively promote and advocate peace, tolerance, and acceptance."

CAMP WORKSHOPS AND ACTIVITIES INCLUDE:

The Great Debate - learn about the differences between debate and dialogue

Sticks & Stones - explore the myths behind widely held stereotypes

FreedomTrail - walk in the shoes of a group that experienced genocide and learn more about their history

Differently-abled lunch - just how easy is it to navigate a "handicapped accessible" cafeteria?

Bridging the Gap - How is your gender viewed? How would you like to be viewed?

plus Challenge Course, High Ropes, Canoeing, Tree Climbing & more!

"It has guided what I want to do later on in life; it gives me a sense of purpose and assures me that there is a little good in everyone."

"I love this camp. I believe we are making a difference!"

